STILL DIGGING OUT. Aiding in snow removal, huge crane tackles a king-sized heap in New York City today as the city continues to free itself from the weekend's 17.4-inch snowfall. Voting Board To Set Up 13 New Precincts

Candidates Given Ballot Places But 3 Drop Out Of Race

The County Election Board decided Monday afternoon to establish 13 new precincts in four cities and villages and six townships by dividing existing areas in which top-heavy votes of 400 or more were cast in the November general election.

The action would give Columbian County a total of 165 precincts, as it now has 152. In addition, the board agreed to realign the boundaries of two additional precincts, also as a result of heavy votes cast last fall.

Meeting at its office on W. 6th St., the board also:

Permitted the withdrawal of three candidates who had filed for the May 2 primaries, including Richard Carter, 1180 Erie St., a Republican aspirant for councilman-at-large; Bernard L. Ference, 1829½ Clark Ave., Wellsville, a

$5,200 Fire Hits Garage Of Oil Firm

Two trucks and a car were damaged in a $5,200 fire at the Rowen Oil Co. repair garage at 2nd St. and Broadway Wellsville Monday night at 11:20.

The extreme heat caused the outside block wall to warp and the area was roped off today because of the danger of the wall collapsing.

Fire Chief Robert Lewis said the fire was caused by careless smoking. He said a hot ash or ember from a cigarette apparently fell into a rag bin.

He estimated the damage at $4,000 to the building and $1,200 to contents. The one-store, four-bay repair garage is made of concrete block and has steel roof girders.

The intense heat built up, causing the outside wall to warp, and also warped the steel decking on the roof.

Passage Vote Looms Thursday

First Reading In Senate Slated On Income Tax Bill

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—Slowly and in position to come up but fairly surely, Gov. Barron's for Senate passage Thursday. The legislative program is beginning to move.

His personal income tax bill came out of the Senate Finance Committee Monday afternoon. The committee recommended passage with some amendments which would not change it materially.

Then last night the Senate Judiciary Committee recommended passage, in a slightly revised form, of his two main economic development bills. They would set up a State Department of Commerce and an Industrial Development Authority. The authority would lend money to help finance local industrial projects.

The income tax bill was up for routine first reading in the Senate

Heavy Snow Forecast For Ohio Valley

That bone-chilling cold was easing again today but that back-breaking snow is returning.

Still reeling from Friday's deep snow, the Tri-State District was alerted today to another heavy snow — an accumulation of up to 4 inches by Wednesday night.

The West Virginia Panhandle was warned that it may become heavy by tonight with an accumulation of 2 to 3 inches. Western Pennsylvania was told it would begin in the south this afternoon, spread to the north tonight and continue Wednesday.

Southern and Central Ohio got heavy snow warnings and Northern Ohio was advised the snow would begin tonight and continue tomorrow.

In East Liverpool, rental of snow-removal equipment was discontinued last midnight, but street department crews continued the work today.

The crews are working today in downtown alleys, including Summit Ln. and Crook Alley, Safety Service Director Lee Copenhagen said. The work will shift this afternoon to outlying areas such as Pleasant Heights, Fisher Park and Maplewood, he said.

If the Senate had given the income tax bill first reading when received it yesterday, it would have been possible for the Senate

Kennedy Bid On Gold Issue Wins Backing

But Proposals Spark Fresh Controversy Over Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's program to halt the flow of gold abroad is winning favorable reaction on Capitol Hill. But his proposals sparked a new controversy over foreign aid spending.

Chairman J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee read into Monday's presidential message new assurances that the foreign assistance program could be kept in operation despite the unfavorable balance in U.S. payments.

Only six of the 20 indictments handed up by four federal grand juries last year were disposed of Monday.

The 21 firms, including America's two biggest—General Electric and Westinghouse Electric Corp.—were fined a total of $322,500.

The 36 executives, including those jailed, were ordered to pay fines totaling $109,000.

There can be no appeals to a higher court since the defendants had pleaded guilty or chosen not to defend the government charges.

The maximum corporation penalty on each indictment is $50,000. Individuals can be fined a similar amount and jailed for a year.

The U.S. Marshal's office here said the jail terms probably would be served in Pennsylvania jails, either in Philadelphia or neighboring Norristown, Pa. These are not federal institutions.

Over a third of the corporate fines Monday were imposed on GE, $185,000, and Westinghouse, $180,000. GE, in one case, was fined the maximum $50,000.

Eleven GE executives, including those who will go to prison, will

Not Just For Voting Purposes

Measure Would Make 19 Age Of Majority In Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—When is a youngster old enough to take his place as a full-fledged member of Ohio society—at 21? At 18? At 19?

The question has been kicked around for years. It is before the Ohio legislature today.

Someone pulled the "magic" figure of 21 out of the hat in the dim, distant past and it has been practically sacrosanct for centuries. Recent legislative assaults on the age of 21 as the age of majority generally have lowered the age to 18. None of these attempts even approached success in Ohio.

Now comes Rep. Raymond E. Hildebrand, R-Lucas, with a new suggested age of majority—19—not just for voting purposes, but for every purpose . . . the right to

$1.25 Goal As Minimum Wage Scale

Kennedy's 2-Stage Plan Would Cover Four Million More

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy today keeps the promise he made to send back to Congress the minimum wage legislation defeated there last year when as a senator he was its chief sponsor.

Kennedy is expected to recommend again legislation to boost the present $1 per hour minimum to $1.25 in two stages and to extend coverage to about 4 million additional workers. The law now applies to about 24 million.

As a senator from Massachusetts and the Democratic presidential nominee, Kennedy steered such a bill through the Senate last August after a bitter fight.

He refused to accept a milder House version, remarking at the time, "We'd rather come back and try to do it in January."

A number of business organizations already are gearing for a fight against minimum wage expansion, particularly as to removing present coverage exemptions.

The American Retail Federation, for example, in current memoranda to its members says "it does not necessarily follow, just because the U. S. Senate and House of Representatives each passed bills to extend the wage-hour law in 1960, that the process becomes automatic in 1961."

The administration bills will be accompanied by letters from the President and Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg recommending them as a way to hike the nation's wage floor and boost the economy.

It is indicated the proposals will closely pattern Kennedy's plan that lost out last year. This called for raising the $1 minimum to $1.15 the first year after the effective date and a $1.25 minimum two years later. New coverage of about 4 to 4½ million workers would be on the basis of the present $1 rate initially.

New coverage proposals are also likely to be much the same as under the former bill.

Gets 3-Year Contract

Venditti's Named Football Coach At Canton Lincoln

Lou Venditti, head football coach at East Liverpool High School the last five seasons, has received a three-year contract to coach football at Canton Lincoln High School.

The announcement was made today by Dr. Gordon Humbert, superintendent of Canton schools.

Venditti met with Humbert Monday night in Canton. The Potter coach, who led East Liverpool teams to some of their most outstanding upsets, will receive close to $7,500 his first season at Canton.

He will get $1,350 for coaching football, with the additional amount coming in the teaching scale. Venditti received $950 as head coach at East Liverpool.

The 38-year-old Venditti is expected to assume his new duties at Lincoln within the next few weeks. He succeeds Art Pardee, who resigned at Lincoln last December.

Commenting on the job, Venditti said: "It will be tough to leave my friends in East Liverpool. I am leaving with mixed emotions.

"I want to thank the teaching staff and the people of East Liverpool. They have been wonderful to me, but I feel this is a chance to better myself.

Pair Prods Proprietor With Pistol

Louis Yanni Fries Self In 5 Minutes In East End Store

Two gunmen fled with $250 Monday night from an East End clothing store after forcing the proprietor into a back room and binding his arms and legs with adhesive tape.

The robbers rifled the cash register at the Louis-James Clothing Store, 539 Mulberry St., after using an automatic pistol to menace the owner, Louis Yanni, 536 Mulberry St.

Yanni managed to break the bonds about five minutes after the gunmen fled. He telephoned the police immediately, but the two had vanished, presumably in a car which they had parked nearby.

Yanni was alone in his store when the two men entered about 8:10. They entered simultaneously through two doors which both lead out onto Mulberry St.

One held a handkerchief over his face as though to wipe his nose, but Yanni said he knew immediately that the man was attempting to conceal his features in preparation for a holdup.

The man with the handkerchief to his face walked to within 5 or 10 feet of Yanni, then pulled the gun and ordered the proprietor into the back room.

Yanni said he was ordered repeatedly "Don't look back!" and was prodded with the gun for emphasis.

In the back room, the two men produced rolls of adhesive tape. They pulled Yanni's hands behind his back and bound his wrists. Then they tied his ankles and shoved a towel in his mouth for a gag.

One man asked if there is a phone in the store. When Yanni replied that there is, the man replied: "Well, we have time to get downtown before he gets loose."

Yanni said he thinks the remark was made deliberately to mislead him about the direction in which the men intended to flee.

"I kept talking and asking them questions, trying to get a clue that might help identify them, but they pushed the gun against my head and told me to be quiet," Yanni replied. They appeared nervous, he added.

The two stretched Yanni on his stomach on the floor of the back room and re-entered the storeroom. He heard them struggling to open the cash register, which was accomplished after considerable effort.

Declaring the department is "the most poorly paid" of any city in the state of comparable population, the chief commented. "I do not consider this reasonable."

He suggested the top floor of the North Side station be removed and

Widow Will Get Wedding Ring Lost 52 Years Ago

An almost-fantastic tale of a wedding ring lost for 52 years now is being returned to its owner unfolded here today.

Mrs. George Garner, now residing in Buffalo, will receive her original wedding band which disappeared in July 1909, just a year after her marriage.

The 18-carat ring still in perfect condition, was found last summer by Mr. and Mrs. Peter Shaw, 361 Ray St., who were excavating for some new steps at the former Todd home.

Thinking that he might be acquainted with the owner, Mrs. Shaw gave the ring to Fire Chief Charles Bryan, but the chief's efforts were in vain until last Friday when he casually mentioned

Fire Routs 6 At Columbiana

COLUMBIANA — A family of six escaped injury when flames engulfed their home late Monday night, but the fire spread so quickly the only possessions they managed to save were an outboard motor boat and their car.

Mr. and Mrs. Jay Dunn and their four children were routed from their one-story frame home at about 10:45. They had just retired when a smoke odor became noticeable and Dunn investigated to find the basement ablaze near the coal furnace.

He and his wife, in night clothes, got the children, aged 1 to 12, to safety. The boat and car were pulled from the garage adjoining the house.

Columbiana firemen were called and managed to quell the blaze, which was roaring fiercely on their arrival and caused severe damage to the house located on Washington St. near the southwest village limits. The loss was estimated at more than $7,000.

Firemen were hampered by lack of water and two pumpers on the scene had to make repeated trips to a S. Main St. hydrant to fill their tanks.

The Dunns, who were buying the house, are looking for a furnished apartment. They stayed last night with neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Lipe.

'Welcome Back' Will Be Theme Of Post Anniversary

"Welcome Back" will be the theme of Midland American Legion Post 481 double anniversary party March 15.

The event will mark the American Legion's 42nd anniversary and the post's 33rd.

The post met Monday evening in the post home when the theme was announced. Donald Roach is chairman for the party at which awards will be made.

George Younus of New Brighton, District 26 commander, spoke briefly on membership and other Legion matters.

Five new members were announced. An amendment to the bylaws was approved.

Lester Trainer, Americanism chairman, gave a report. Plans were discussed for an annual local Americanism award and for a bookshelf at the Carnegie Library for which the post would contribute books. Plans were discussed for a file on all Americanism activities in the area and to be submitted to the Legion department.

William Coble, commander, presided. Next meeting is Feb. 20.

Holy Name Group Approves Bylaws

A constitution and bylaws were adopted at a meeting of the reactivated Holy Name Society of St. Aloysius Catholic Church Monday night in the school. Forty-five attended.

John Ragan, membership committee chairman, reported a total of 99 signed in the first phase of the campaign.

Plans for a retreat in the spring in the Diocesan Retreat House in Youngstown for members were outlined by Fr. Carl Nicolay, pastor and spiritual director for the group.

The men will receive Holy Communion in group at the 7:30 a.m. Mass Sunday.

Thomas Meadows, president, announced a meeting of the Executive Board will be held Monday at 8 p.m. in the school.

The next regular meeting will be March 6 at 8 p.m.

New Band Holds First Rehearsal

First rehearsal of the new Tri-State Adult Concert Band was held Monday night at the Memorial Auditorium with a "good sound if only a small turnout," Vince Maola, director, reported today.

The new band had sufficient instrumentation balance last night, but continues to need more members, according to Maola, who said about 25 rehearsed for about two hours, making some recordings.

Maola said the band will rehearse again on Monday nights at 7:30 at the MA for while to see if any new members join. If the band is not much larger by March, the rehearsals may be discontinued until spring, he said.

Any adult musicians in the area desiring to join may notify Maola at the high school or attend the rehearsals.

Sen. Blake Bill Would Aid 40-65 Job Hunters

The Review Correspondent

COLUMBUS — A bill to prohibit job discrimination against persons between 40 and 65 because of the age was introduced in the General Assembly Monday night by State Sen. Arthur Blake of Martins Ferry and State Sen. Charles Carney of Youngstown.

The measure would include the age provision in the Fair Employment Practice law passed in 1959 prohibiting discrimination because of race, color or creed.

Blake promoted a resolution two years ago seeking a study of the problem of discrimination because of age but it was not approved. However various groups concerned with the problem of unemployment among those over 40 have continued to press for action.

Rep. A. G. Lancione of Belmont County introduced a similar measure in the House.

Foreign Shopkeepers Moan

Kennedy Puts $100 Limit On Duty-Free Purchases

LONDON (AP) — President Kennedy's plan to limit duty-free purchases by Americans traveling abroad to $100 drew groans from foreign shopkeepers but American tourists generally accepted the move philosophically.

There was a feeling that the new administration's initial steps to protect U.S. gold reserves might have been much more drastic. One effect might be price cuts by stores that specialize in catering to Americans.

British economic experts were gratified that the President had ruled out such short-term remedies as higher tariffs, devaluation of the dollar and cutbacks in overseas aid.

Japanese Foreign Office sources showed concern and said if the program is carried out in full, Japan will have to step up its campaign to increase exports to nations other than the United States.

The third constitutional proposal came from Sen. Fred Hoffman, Cincinnati Republican who heads the Senate's Judiciary Committee. It would affect the governor's power of appointment on bipartisan boards and commissions. At present, the governor appoints board and commission members of both parties.

Hoffman proposes that the right to make appointments be split between the governor and the leader of the opposite party in the Ohio House.

Normally, the party which controls the governor's office has authority to fill, let us say, three of five positions on a bipartisan board with members of its own party. He also has the obligation to fill the other two positions with members of the opposite party.

No matter who is governor, some people object to a governor's selection of opposite-party members to these bipartisan boards and commissions. They are "weak sisters" or not dyed-in-the-wool opposite-party members, many of the governor's opponents maintain.

Hoffman's amendment is designed to cure that feeling.

Take the present situation. Gov. Michael V. DiSalle is a Democrat. House Speaker Roger Cloud, Logan County, is a Republican. On a seven-member, bipartisan board, DiSalle could name four members; Cloud could name three—provided, of course, that all members' terms expire during the next two years.

Presumably, under such a setup, DiSalle's appointees would be honest-to-goodness Democrats and Cloud's would be true-blue Republicans.

Always, constitutional change proposals are the never-never land of legislative observers. Very few want the grade.

But, in the meat-and-potatoes field of proposed bills, there were measures Monday to:

Require annual inspection and licensing of crop-dusting planes.

Permit the state Department of Personnel to contract with cities for civil service examinations.

Prohibit discrimination in hiring because of age.

Establish a $100-a-month minimum pension for a teacher with 20 or more years' service.

Assumption That Rocks A Nation

Everything about the addition of new members to the House Rules Committee last week has been combed over, except the thing that should make Americans shiver in their shoes.

This is the assumption that the new members will live in the hip pocket of Speaker Rayburn, who named them to the committee to carry out his purposes.

These purposes consist, in the main, of having the Rules Committee push through all the bills Mr. Rayburn wants pushed through. If by some chance he wants bills pigeon-holed, the committee chairman, Rep. Howard W. Smith, then will have his chance to get even. He has no cause to be grateful to Speaker Rayburn for packing his committee.

The two Democrats named to the committee to carry out Rep. Rayburn's strategy are Carl Elliott of Alabama and B. F. Sisk of California. They are considered loyal to him. They are his men. They will do what he wants them to do, because that is their purpose on this important committee. These things must be assumed.

HERE IS THE MOST damaging kind of assumption that Americans ever are called on to make about their government — that its officials do not make decisions on merit but according to preconceived opinion.

When it's assumed that legislators, judges and administrators will do what someone else wants them to do, instead of judging every proposal and individual on merit, representative democracy comes apart at the seams.

When it's assumed that Americans will do the bidding of someone else as a condition for official status—that legislators will vote, judges rule and administrators act in prescribed way—popular government is being mocked.

EVERY AMERICAN affected by the showdown on the composition of the Rules Committee has a right to hope Reps. Elliott and Sisk will waste no time finding a way to assert their independence of Speaker Rayburn. These men do not belong to him, nor to the Kennedy administration. They are in Congress to represent their congressional districts.

Nothing hurts confidence in representative democracy more than the belief that men in Congress become so fixed and frozen in their beliefs that their votes can be counted in advance; that they are owned by the labor unions, the railroads, the coal business, the copper industry, the textile industry or the segregationists.

It was precisely this that caused Chairman Smith's Rules Committee to become a target of criticism—this smug assumption that votes could be counted in advance. The assumption is just as disquieting when made about the former majority as it was made about the new majority.

If this is what representative democracy has turned into, we're in bigger trouble than President Kennedy has been talking about.

More Than A Coach

Lou Venditti, who will leave East Liverpool High School for Canton Lincoln, turned out exceptionally well-coached football teams during his stay here.

His boys were drilled thoroughly in fundamentals and were always in peak physical condition as the result of a rigorous training program.

But to us Lou was more than a football coach who got results on the gridiron. He was a man who set an outstanding example for those who had the privilege of playing under him.

Lou, who can be as rugged as they come when the occasion demands, realized there were qualities his boys should have in addition to being able to carry a football and to make a bruising tackle.

While teaching football, he also concentrated on the moral, spiritual and other qualities which eventually blend into the well-rounded man.

No one worked harder at being a gentleman than Lou Venditti. He practiced what he preached and the boys on his football squads were the better for having had his guidance.

Guilty, As Charged--And Punished

Fines and sentences handed out in U.S. District Court in Philadelphia against 29 of the country's manufacturers of heavy electrical equipment add up to the biggest of all actions under the Sherman Antitrust Act.

Since the first indictments were returned by a federal grand jury last May, a clear case had been developed against the defendants. Some of them conceded the case existed from the outset. Others fought it. But in the words of the chief judge of the court, the pattern of wrongdoing was plain to see. The defendants "mocked the image" of free enterprise, he said, by entering into broad conspiracies to fix and maintain prices in manufacturing heavy electrical equipment. Their wrongdoing went back as far as 1953 in some instances, according to the government.

THE ODDITY of the cases has been what critics of the press assert was suppression of a sensational story because it concerned some of the best known firms in the country. It's a fact that most newspapers have given only casual coverage to the cases. But it is not a fact they suppressed them because they were sensational.

They neglected them, but they did not suppress them. And their neglect was due to the nature of the story.

Antitrust actions have become too complex to follow. Even the experts have great trouble to prove and disprove contentions about practices the Justice Department has claimed to be in violation of a law he knows nothing about this law, except that business runs afoul of it all the time but labor unions are immune to it because they will themselves "voluntary associations."

The layman assumes that with so many government lawyers hard at work trying to prove wrongdoing, all culprits will be ferreted out and punished, which seems to be what has happened again in this group of cases. This was not, after all, something that was done against the public but something that was done against one category of business enterprise by another category of business enterprise.

When conspiracy to restrain trade becomes a crime no matter who does it, there will be no lack of attention to antitrust suits. But in the absence of equity for all, it must be assumed that antitrust actions are technical proceedings that only lawyers can be expected to understand — not to agree on but to disagree on.

But Do We Have What It Takes?

Luther H. Hodges, the new secretary of commerce, is going after tourist trade for the United States, to bring some of our dollars home where they belong.

If he has any luck, some of us may learn what it feels like to be colorful natives with cameras pointed at us by bad-mannered tourists jabbering in languages we can't understand. The question is whether we'll have what it takes.

A colorful native must be photogenic. He either should be quaint, or have some peculiarity of dress that a traveler can cackle about when he explains the pictures to friends he will bore with them when he gets back home. There should be something historic in the background, to prove there was no fakery. And preferably when touring shutterbugs train their lenses on us we should be doing something interesting, like skinning a buffalo, having first removed the arrows.

It would be desirable, too, for American women to learn to do something picturesque, like carrying jugs on their shoulders, or holding flowers in their teeth. Tourists go for things like that. Even kids under 10 puffing cigarettes would be better than nothing.

Secretary Hodges is a cagey operator, by all accounts. He undoubtedly is working on a manual of stunts any Yankee Doodle can master to give gillies from faraway places a run for their money if they decide to see the United States before they die.

There is a touch of the Barrymores in JFK. He has acting skills but doesn't "ham it up." But he may be required to join the Actors Equity and Lambs Club before TV press conferences, coming direct to the homes of America, get very far. Public loves to see its leaders doing stuff on household screen.

The routine can become a TV "spectacular."

(Note: If President ever puts Jacqueline into act, what chance will regular airwave shows have?)

ALL HORATIO ALGER stories were topped by A. C. Gilbert who died the other day. At Yale as medical student his hobby was magic. While there he staged a magician's show at the old Hyperion Theater. Got diploma as doctor but started father by deciding to make "tricks" for the small fry. He began building these novelties in a shack. Called company "Mysto Mfg. Co." This writer, who then had ambitions as a sketch artist, illustrated his first catalogue after conferences in Hof Brau Grill back home. Gilbert made money from the start, developed famous "Erector" sets that swept country and made millions.

The Once Over

Through TV press conference President Kennedy is off to new frontier in company of best video adventure thrillers, the driver of a sort of "Covered Wagon Train."

It stops in your living room to take on passengers. JFK is an alert, up-to-the-minute performer determined to take advantage of all modern devices and come through to the public "LIVE."

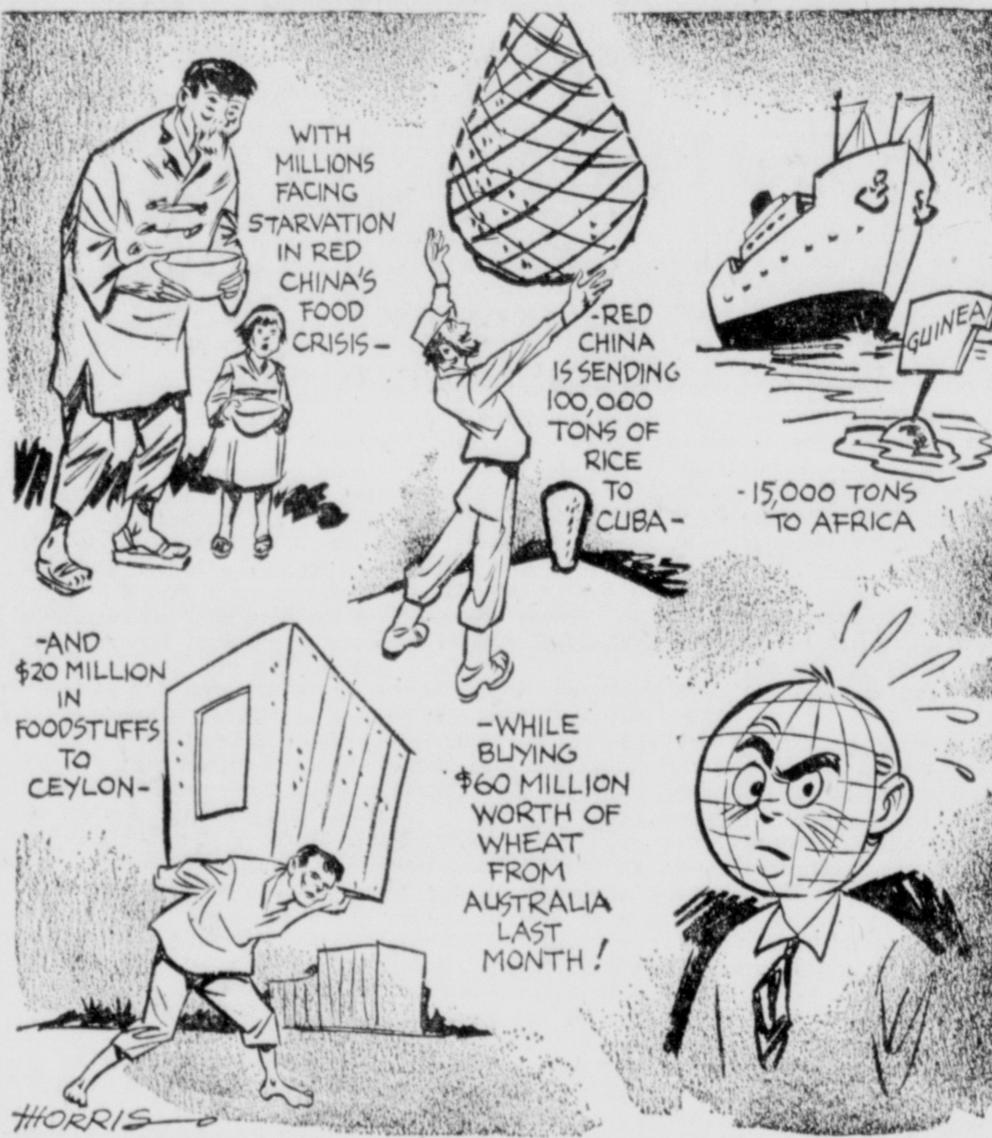

Opening telecast was as path blazing as the earliest appearances of Happiness Boys, Ginger ale Eskimos and Guy Lombardo in early days of radio.

Some of the correspondents seemed to be out for "best TV actor" awards. President was as cool as seasoned performers. Even in black and white he is one of few men who can come through "in color."

He got as high a TV rating as Robert Stack in "The Untouchables" or Jack Benny and violin. Only few days in office, he won bigger audiences than most TV performers attract after years of struggle. (The administration may even help pay national debt through the "residual" rights.)

There are no sponsors but many a business would gladly leap in. Think what it could do for a manufacturer of frontier equipment, pep

'Mr. Sam' Takes A Big Gamble

By Raymond Moley

The packing of the Rules Committee, so narrowly voted, may well have ominous and far-reaching results. And no one should know that better than the venerable speaker himself.

In March, 1910 a few "progressive" Republicans joined with the Democratic members and engineered a revolution. Cannon was taken off the Rules Committee, and committee members were to be elected by the House.

The Rules Committee was "enlarged" ("packed"), just as it was last week. Cannon was speaker until the end of the session but since the Democrats won the House in 1910, a Democratic speaker succeeded him in 1911.

The tenures of Cannon and Rayburn laid end to end encompass 88 years of the life of the Republic — four years more than half.

Cannon first entered the House in 1873 and, with occasional missed terms, served until the 1920s. By the time he retired, laden with years, Rayburn had been there six times.

They knew and respected each other. And Rayburn must know, better than any of the younger generation, the perils that beset a speaker who, as Cannon was called, becomes a "czar."

Before March, 1910, Cannon had been speaker of the House and also chairman of the Rules Committee. Then, as in the immediate past, the Rules Committee was the means by which measures approved by other committees were brought to a vote. Cannon not only was chairman of the Rules Committee but he had the authority to appoint committee members.

AS SPEAKER, Cannon dominated the House. A member could not get the floor without Cannon's permission and Cannon saw to it that all committees were dominated by members whom he appointed.

It is of immediate interest now to note that during that period of Cannon's dictatorship the argument for this tight system of control was that the Republican party had the right, since it had a mandate from the people, to facilitate legislation in harmony with its purpose and to frustrate legislation which was not in harmony with Republican policy.

But since Cannon had taken this vast responsibility, he was also made the target for violent criticism. President Taft's failures were blamed upon Cannon, and the ten thousand times ten thousand things have not been done this winter that were on the schedule. Trips have not been made. Meetings have not been held. Appointments have been broken. Visits have gone unmade.

Doorbells have gone unrun and sales have not been made. The severity of the winter has been a solar plexus blow, as they said in the old days when something was knocked out.

It has been a telling blow to everybody but the fuel companies and the paid-by-the-job Samaritans who rescue travelers who have fallen by the wayside. Figure wizards won't admit it, because it isn't a statistic, but bad weather has been a major factor in the business slowdown.

So how can anyone put in a good word for something that has been causing a business slowdown? Like this:

Nothing. In places where snow piled up highest, millions of people who otherwise would have been milling about like rabbits on lettuce farms were forced to take things easy and were the better for it.

That is what the liberals are saying now, about Democratic policy.

But since Cannon had taken this vast responsibility, he was also made the target for violent criticism. President Taft's failures were blamed upon Cannon, and the ten thousand times ten thousand things have not been done this winter that were on the schedule. Trips have not been made. Meetings have not been held. Appointments have been broken. Visits have gone unmade.

Rusk gives the impression of a man who uses the language not for effect but for caution.

Dulles broke all records for travel as a secretary of state. He was endlessly on the move as if he felt a job couldn't be well done unless he did it.

Rusk isn't likely to do so much running around since he believes strongly in depending on a trained diplomatic corps.

He has written that the secretary of state must be the central figure in developing foreign policy. But this doesn't mean he will seek the headlines himself.

It's this writer's guess that Rusk will be a modest secretary who lets the President make the big pronouncements while he and his staff work quietly out of sight as much as possible.

Many a small invention has launched a big industry. One of eight American businesses is a company which got its start with a single new product. For example, the little ballpoint pen, which accounted for many jokes when it first came out ("It'll write under water, but that's the only place"), now sells at the rate of 657 million pens per year, or $142 million worth.

Kennedy's Popularity

By David Lawrence

Only Time Will Tell The Final Result

Where does President Kennedy stand today in popularity throughout the country?

Many people who didn't vote for him are saying nice things about him.

Their comment is that his television appearances thus far have made a good impression and that his statements on public policy have been retrained, cautious and prudent.

Indeed, while it is hazardous always to predict what a public opinion poll on the popularity of a president will show in the future, it wouldn't be surprising to see the Kennedy percentage go up into the 70s or even the 80s.

It will be recalled, however, that in the early days of his first administration, President Truman reached a figure of 87 per cent all-time high for a president—only to drop to an all-time low of 23 per cent in November 1951.

This writer recalls that in the spring of 1945 Charles G. Ross, Mr. Truman's press secretary and a former newspaperman of experience, said privately that he was puzzled by the seeming lack of criticism and that things "look too good to be true." This often happens in what is described as the "honeymoon" period. Even President William Howard Taft was thrilled by it in 1909, only to find himself defeated 3½ years later.

President Kennedy got the votes of approximately half the American people last November. Presumably he has retained that support and needs only to make some inroads in the other half. Apparently he now has made some substantial gains there.

THE UPS AND DOWNS of popularity polls show that, while public opinion isn't exactly fickle, it reacts sharply to the things that might be called "irregular."

Thus the Truman administration was hurt by the scandals that cropped up in various departments of the government and, though Mr. Truman personally wasn't in any way involved, the episodes nevertheless did turn public opinion away from him and helped bring about the defeat of the Democratic party in 1952.

Anything that touches integrity is a delicate issue, which quickly influences the voters. The public doesn't like political fixing or political chicanery. One of the main reasons for Dwight Eisenhower's almost unbroken popularity — it averaged 66 per cent throughout Certainly on world policy, the new President has made a favorable impression thus far at home and abroad. The real test will, of course, come when eloquently phrased principles have to be implemented by necessarily harsh decisions.

The European governments are in a receptive mood and will try to cooperate with the new administration here. There's a chance for dynamic leadership and if world affairs show a turn for the better after these many years of steadily increasing gains for the Communists, the American people will send the popularity poll up a lot of percentage points for President Kennedy.

Conversely, any impression that the Communists are being appeased — and there are some signs already that could be ominous — will in due time bring an adverse trend in the public opinion polls.

Letters To The Editor

To the people of our city: Since the city taxes has begun our city went worse to the dumps than before. The people of our city is getting things shoved down their throats that weren't voted for.

You call this democracy: It is plain unjust. Other cities have police cruisers and equipment that is a lot older than ours. And it looks a whole lot better too. They take care of what they get from the people's money. Where does all the meter money go to? Who would take care of my home expenses? Not the city. My husband has been out of work since last April.

I don't go to the city to pay my expenses like the city goes to the people. No wonder the population of East Liverpool is getting smaller. The people are getting tired of getting pushed around. They are moving out where they know there is a little freedom.

Board's Entry Into Jointure To Be Cleared

The Southern Beaver County Board of Education met Monday evening and instructed the solicitor to draw up an agreement for the Georgetown Board of Education to enter the jointure.

A special meeting will probably be called Feb. 20 for both boards to adopt the agreement. Georgetown voted recently to join and the jointure voted to accept.

Three members of the Georgetown Board attended last night's meeting at South Side High School near Hookstown. Harvey Todd, president, presided.

The board voted to proceed with plans for the tentative addition of about nine rooms to the high school and other additions to locker rooms and cafeteria. The estimated cost is $500,000.

Tuition rates announced include $26.39 per elementary pupil per month and $34.42 per secondary pupil per month.

The board approved requests of the South Side Citizens' Association for use of the high school for a Mardi Gras, donkey basketball game, faculty basketball game and a minstrel show.

The association asked the board to consider in the 1961-1962 budget money for extra buses to take pupils home after athletic practice and to and from games. The board said the cost would be too high and something could be worked out with present buses.

The association also asked the board to take over insurance for the football squad. The board will take under advisement a proposal to provide insurance for all athletics.

A field trip for the Science Club to the Country Bell Dairy at Pittsburgh was approved by the board. The trip is tentatively set for Feb. 15.

Precincts

Democratic candidate for mayor of Wellsville, and Chris Paparodis Jr. of Salem, a Democratic candidate for councilman-at-large.

Granted ballot places to 215 other candidates, including 105 Republicans and 110 Democrats, and four special questions and issues.

Awarded contracts for ballots for the primaries and for poll books for both the May voting and the November general election.

The decision to create new precincts affects East Liverpool, East Palestine, Salem and Columbiania village, along with the six townships.

In East Liverpool, it affects two precincts, 1-A and 4-F. Others the board decided to divide are: 4-A in East Palestine; 1-D and 4-D in Salem, A and E in Columbiania Village; North in Hanover Township; North in Liverpool Township; East in Perry Township; South in St. Clair Township, and West in Yellow Creek Township.

The board also decided to realign the boundaries of Northwest A in Lisbon and Unity Precinct in Unity Township. In the realignment part of the area of the two precincts would be combined with adjoining precincts that have a comparatively small number of electors.

The Dodge Publishing Co. of Salem received the contract to furnish ballots for the primaries on its low bid of $2,235.86. The Wilson Printing House of Market St. filed an offer of $2,855.15.

The Columbus Blank Book Co. of Columbus received the contract to furnish poll books for both the November and May voting. Its offer was $24 a precinct except in areas where only special questions and issues will be voted upon.

The Herr Printing Co. of Columbus bid $25.10 a precinct on the poll books. The Johnson-Watson Co. of Dayton bid $25.20, with a charge of $16.90 a precinct in areas where only special questions and issues will be voted upon.

None of the candidates who withdrew gave a reason for the action. Each sent the board a letter asking that his name be removed from the list. Ference had notified the board of his intention to withdraw several weeks ago.

In addition, the board learned of the death of Russell A. Ingledue, a Democratic candidate for one of two nominations for a two-year term on Lisbon village council. His death left a ticket vacancy.

Special questions and issues granted ballot places are: Lisbon, exempted village school district, $350,000 bond issue; Lisbon village, new 3-mill levy for current operating expenses; Leetonia village, renewal of a 4-mill levy for current operating expenses, and Salem city school district, renewal of a 4-mill levy.

Both parties will have primaries in the four cities: East Liverpool, East Palestine, Wellsville and Salem. Because of the "no contest" law Leetonia Republicans will skip the primary, but Democrats will vote and there also will be a special election on the village levy.

Lisbon will skip both party primaries, but will have a special election on the village and school district proposals. Columbiania will have neither a party primary nor a special election.

the first floor remodeled. "The building is an eyesore to residents," he said.

Painting of the interior and exterior of all fire stations was asked.

Renewing his annual appeals, Chief Bryan again asked Council to establish a building code and appoint an electrical inspector, whom he said would help reduce fire hazards.

It is the 20th year in which he has sought a building code, and the 12th time for appointment of an inspector, the chief reminded Council.

Installation of radios on all fire apparatus would cost the city approximately $1,700 the first year and about $7 a unit for each year after that, he estimated. East Liverpool is the only city in its size in the state whose trucks are not equipped with radios.

The chief also asked Council to replace the 1,000-gallon pumper, which is 31 years old, with a new truck of the same size, and replacement of the 750-gallon American LaFrance pumper at Central Station, which has been in service 21 years.

He also asked replacement of the resuscitator, which he said was purchased by firemen in 1941 at no cost to the city, and purchase of a new battery charger, air compressor and greasing outfit.

The department also needs a 1,000-foot of 2½-inch hose, 400 feet of 1½-inch line, a few sections of 1-inch hose and some new nozzles, he reported.

He estimated the department's budget at $159,960. It includes $134,460 in salaries; $2,500, fire equipment maintenance; $3,000, fire hose and nozzles; $2,500, fire hydrants; $5,000, lands and buildings; $3,100, uniforms; $600, laundry; $3,000, fuel and light; $600, telephone; $800, gasoline and oil; $300, furniture and fixtures; $2,000, incidentals; $200, stationery; $400, fire alarm system, and $500 for fire school training.

He thanked Council, the administration and other city officials for their help, and gave special thanks to the police department for aiding firemen in laying hose, helping remove people from buildings, and directing of traffic.

Juvenile Camp Plans Revived

A proposal has been revived to establish a camp for delinquent boys on a 28-acre tract of ground along Route 30 at Rock Camp.

County commissioners and Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin are scheduled to meet at the Courthouse Monday at 2:30 p. m. to discuss the proposal with spokesmen of the East Liverpool Fraternal Order of Police and FOP Associates, which have offered to donate the ground.

The police lodges' offer to donate the undeveloped ground first was made about a year ago, but no decision ever was reached. At the time, Judge Tobin and the other juvenile judges of the 18th Congressional District were discussing a proposal to establish work camp for delinquent youth throughout the five-county area.

The meeting of the commissioners, the judge and the police lodge spokesmen was set after Judge Tobin wrote a letter to Walter Huston, chairman of the commissioners. He told the commissioners he would "appreciate it if you would inform me if your are interested in pursuing the matter."

The tract lies on the sharp curve of Route 30 near the Crockery City Farms — at the point where the Y. & O. Rd. intersects the federal highway at Rock Camp. Beaver Creek forms one of its boundaries.

The ground is owned by a corporation allied with the FOP and FOPA. Part of the purchase price was raised by the annual Old Home Week celebrations which the lodges sponsored each fall for about 10 years. Other funds were raised by the sale of shares to members of the FOP and FOPA.

The two lodges had intended to establish a summer youth camp, but the development never was pushed to a conclusion.

Girl At Chester Chosen Finalist In Scholarship Plan

A 17-year-old Chester High School senior girl has been selected as a finalist in the National Merit Scholarship program, and is eligible for a college scholarship.

Elizabeth Arner, daughter of Mrs. William Witherow, 450 Louisiana Ave., is one of the few high school seniors in the nation being considered for scholarship on the basis of scores in the tests, their written statements and recommendations.

Some 1,000 scholarship awards are available, while separate college grants will be made to some finalists who do not get awards in the merit program itself according to R. M. McFarland, Chester High School principal.

Miss Arner has already received a certificate of merit on the basis of her test achievement. Some 21 Chester students will take the qualifying examination in March, with the college entrance board test later in the year for the 1962 competition.

British Charge In Court Cites Secrets To Moscow

By HAL COOPER

LONDON (AP) — The British government charged in court today that a small house in a quiet London suburb housed a high-powered radio station transmitting British naval secrets to Moscow.

Atty. Gen. Sir Reginald Manning-Buller, opening the prosecution, said government agents made tests in the house and heard signals coming from the Moscow headquarters of a spy ring.

The five defendants, who appeared today for a preliminary hearing, are Gordon A. Lonsdale, 37, a company director; Peter J. Kroger, 50, a bookseller; Kroger's wife, Helen, 47; Harry F. Houghton, 55, and Ethel E. Gee, 47.

Houghton and Miss Gee were employees of the top secret naval research station at Portland.

Manning-Buller said the secret book "Particulars of Warships."

When Mrs. Kroger was arrested later at her home, the attorney general said, an eight-page letter in the Russian language was found in her purse.

Holdup

the back room of the store is too far from the street to hear a car's motor.

Yanni said both men were about 25 to 30. The man who carried the gun wore a dark jacket and work trousers. Yanni said he did not observe the other man sufficiently to furnish a description.

Yanni estimated the holdup consumed a total of about five minutes. After the men left, he struggled with his bonds and managed to free his hands, then his legs.

He hurried outside, but saw no sign of the two men. Then he phoned the police department. Officers received the call at 8:20, about 10 minutes after the two first walked into the store. Lt. Clyde Bosco and Patrolman Jack Strobel made the initial investigation.

Yanni's store normally is open until 8:30. His wife generally also is at the store, but he was alone last night because she had gone to a meeting.

Yanni told police both the robbers were Negroes. Both wore dark baseball caps, he added. The stolen money included $30 in silver and $220 in bills — $10's, $5's and $1's, he reported.

Adkins also announced quotas for the principal campaign divisions—$5,617 for the Business Division, which will include retail establishments in downtown and suburban areas, all public service companies, such as utilities, city and federal offices, schools and financial institutions.

$6,000 for the Advance Gifts Division, which will include larger contributions from area industrial firms and executives.

$1,800 for the Professional Division, including area doctors, dentists, attorneys, ministers, etc.

$2,000 for the House-to-House Division, the door-to-door canvass of area homes. And $350 for the Salineville unit, which conducts its campaign in conjunction with the East Liverpool chapter.

The club will be part of an extension program and serve as an educational medium for country farmers. "Farmers who meet together and work together are more happier and progressive," Olive Johnson, agricultural agent, commented.

Seventeen attended the initial meeting. Named as a committee to plan activities are G. E. Walters, Lynn Troop, Alvin Hillyard Jr., and Shields Mayhew.

The Rev. C. Donald Vogel, pastor of the First United Presbyterian Church in New Cumberland, was advanced to stated clerk of the Presbytery, succeeding Rev. John J. Bates of Hollansbee, who resigned.

'60 Fire Loss Rises But Is Not Average

East Liverpool's fire loss in 1960 totaled $70,106, nearly double the 1959 loss but some $27,000 under the average for the last 15 years. Fire Chief Charles Bryan says in his annual report.

Last year's insurance-paid loss included $46,056 to buildings and $24,050 on contents, the chief said. However, the actual loss may have been higher since he bases his loss on the amount of insurance paid for fire damage. The 1959 loss was $37,224.

Although costly to those involved, the paid losses were less than 1½ per cent of the $5,170,000 in insurance coverage. The buildings and contents involved in fires were valued at $7,800,000, the report said.

Cigarettes were blamed for 21 of the 208 alarms firemen answered last year, Bryan said. The cause was not determined in 31 of the fires and the department found no fire on 34 occasions.

Arson was blamed for eight fires last year, Bryan said.

Short circuits in autos were responsible for 15 fires and carburetor backfires for 12.

Wiring short circuits were blamed in 12 blazes and friction caused 10 fires. Overheated electric motors and burning rubbish resulted in 9 fires each.

The other cause ranged to such things as a forgotten pot of beans, lint in a clothes dryer, grease in an oven and attempting to thaw a frozen water line.

Sixty-seven of the fires were in dwellings, 51 in autos, 12 in apartments and 19 were grass fires. There were 10 false alarms during the year.

The department was notified by phone of 160 of the fires, 9 were received from fire alarm boxes, 15 from the police department, one from a telephone operator and one from a sprinkler bell system.

November was the worst month for fires with 23 reported while 22 alarms were received in October, 21 in April and 20 in May. The record in other months was January 15, February 13, March 15, June 17, July 16, August 15, September 12 and December 19.

During the year, the department also answered a variety of other calls, including 26 to flush gasoline from gutters, 17 complaints of burning rubbish, 13 resuscitator calls, 12 complaints of gas, and 11 on furnace complaints.

Chief Bryan said all firemen received schooling in the location of streets, fire hydrants, fire alarm boxes and training in the use of gas masks, portable lighting system, motor boat and operation of pumps and fire fighting equipment.

Bryan and George Boston, assistant state fire marshal, inspected 65 buildings. Eleven tear-down orders were issued and all have been complied with except for 3, he reported.

Service stations and cleaning plants also were inspected during the year and some recommendations made on two cleaning plants, he said.

The city's two hospitals were inspected four times and the buildings found to be very clean, the chief reported. The Osteopathic Hospital was instructed to enclose a stairway to prevent the spread of flames in event of a fire, he reported.

Six inspections were made of school buildings and fire extinguishers were recharged in March. Fire drills were conducted in all of the buildings and a record made of the time, Bryan continued.

Hotels and churches were inspected twice during the year and four rest homes also were examined and orders issued to comply with state regulations. Two of the homes have made the necessary changes, he added.

C&O, B&O Start Making Plans For Coordinated Step

CLEVELAND (AP) — Managers of Chesapeake & Ohio Railway and Baltimore & Ohio Railroad "are already making plans for coordinated activities."

News of preliminary steps being taken for a merger came following a C&O directors' meeting here Monday. President Walter J. Tuohy told directors that at least 64 per cent of B&O's 3,147,000 outstanding shares have been acquired by the C&O.

The exact total of shares the C&O has rounded up for exchange is not yet known, Tuohy said, because some commitments posted prior to the Feb. 2 deadline still are being received.

The disclosure that "at least 64 per cent" of B&O shares—or 2,014,080—means the C&O has gained 283,230 shares since Dec. 14 when its exchange offer closed with acceptances from B&O holders of 15 per cent.

The additional stock came in during the 30-day period ended last Thursday, a period marked by intense stock buying on the open market by C&O and the New York Central System, which entered into the battle for control of the B&O last June.

1,576 Favor And 85 Against United Church Constitution

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Rev. Dr. James E. Wagner, co-president of the United Church of Christ, said today 1,576 Congregational Christian Churches so far have voted in favor and 85 against the proposed constitution of the United Church.

Dr. Wagner gave the latest totals in a report prepared for the General Council of the Evangelical and Reformed Church, which united with the General Council of the Congregational Christian Churches in 1957 to form the United Church of Christ. Dr. Wagner is president of the E&R Church.

The 1,661 congregational churches that have voted constitute less than one-third of the 5,500 in the denomination. The constitution must be approved by two-thirds of the 33 area synods of the E&R Church. The E&R synods will vote at their annual spring meetings.

Ruling Says Man With 1 Arm Can Have Driver Tag

EBENSBURG, Pa. (AP) — A county court has ruled that a man with no right arm and only part of his left arm should be entitled to a driver's license.

The license of Joseph Piurkowski, 45, of Johnstown, was suspended by Pennsylvania's secretary of revenue following a ruling that all state employees must take a physical examination for a driver's license. Piurkowski is a bridge foreman for the State Highways Department.

Cambridge County Court said Monday the secretary had abused his discretion in suspending the license without investigating the individual problem.

Testimony disclosed that Piurkowski had driven motor vehicles for 23 years without an accident or traffic violation. He uses no special equipment in the vehicles he drives.

Board Accepts Dates

High School's Graduation Services Set May 28-29

Dates for baccalaureate and commencement exercises for East Liverpool High School were fixed Monday night by the Board of Education.

Acting on the recommendation of the high school faculty, the board gave formal approval to holding baccalaureate exercises on Sunday, May 28, and the graduation exercises the following day, May 29.

Commencement exercises generally are held on a Tuesday but were advanced a day this year because of the Memorial Day holiday. School will be dismissed June 2.

THE BOARD approved an increase of 10 cents in the pay of hourly workers at the Westgate cafeteria, boosting the rate to $1.10. Supt. Ralph W. Betts explained there generally is one substitute working in the cafeteria every day and the increase will bring the wage closer to that of the regular employees.

The adjustment was overlooked when increases for cafeteria workers were approved by the board effective Jan. 1.

James Lowe cast a dissenting vote, explaining he was opposed because no action had been taken on a study he recommended to secure a higher salary for the substitute custodian at the Klondyke School.

The board also approved a motion to pay George Shuffert, superintendent of buildings and grounds, $15 a month to operate his own car for school business.

Churchmen Hear About Scientists' Drive On Cancer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A look at developments in the American scientist's quest to cure cancer was given Columbus churchmen, rotarians and Ohio State university medical students Monday by Dr. Warren H. Cole of the University of Illinois.

Dr. Cole, a surgeon and cancer researcher, told of an enzyme which makes an anticancer drug do its work, and a surgical technique which prevents cancer's recurrence.

He said recent developments indicate more funds should be diverted into a search for a vaccine which could either prevent or cure cancer by strengthening the body's natural resistance to the disease.

In his own work, Dr. Cole said he has obtained some success in preventing cancer after surgery with the use of anticancer drugs at the time of surgery, rather than afterward.

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Transit Co., noting its 45 new air conditioned buses last summer drew the first increase in riders since World War II, has elected to add 40 more. They go into service next Sunday. A spokesman said the 85 air conditioned buses comprise about 20 per cent of its units.

the balance of the term and hired Beverly Kay Hall, a recent graduate of California (Pa.) State Teachers College as her replacement for the remainder of the semester.

A high school diploma was approved for Robert Ernest Miller, who completed the requirements while serving in the armed forces.

The board also granted permission for Artist and Ronald Hurst to remain in the Beaver Local system for the remainder of the year if the parents pay the tuition charge. The parents asked permission for the young children to remain in the Beaver Local system after school officials learned the family resides on the border line but the home is in the city district.

IT ALSO authorized Miss Kathryn Liebschner, clerk-treasurer, to enter into a contract so that a city girl may attend the School for the Deaf in Youngstown.

THE BOARD ALSO was advised by Wade Bash, chief of the school lunch program for the State Department of Education, that it cannot set up a depreciation account to build up a reserve to replace existing equipment when it wears out.

Bash wrote the board there is no provision in the law, pointing out the board is "a creature of statute."

Leo C. Lawrence suggested sometime ago an inquiry be made to see if a depreciation account could be established to provide funds for replacement, particularly of more costly items such as dishwashing machines and other large equipment.

Bewitched Phone Is Embarrassing And Bemusing

By MALCOLM L. STEPHENSON

NEW YORK (AP)—A crazy mixed-up pay telephone in the Criminal Courts Building gives forth with sweet music when you pick up the receiver.

It's better than a juke box—you don't have to put in a dime and there's no rock 'n' roll.

The bewitched phone is bemusing to some—embarrassing to others.

And it's bewildering to phone company technicians. Where is the music coming from?

If some one drops in a coin and makes a call, the conversation has a background of muted trumpets, soft saxophones, delicate violin notes and a gentle piano.

A prominent criminal lawyer is a steady listener to the mysterious music during court recesses.

Imagine his embarrassment when he phoned his office and his secretary—hearing the sweet accompaniment for the first time—asked: "Are you in a bar?" I hear music."

The telephone booth is in the Criminal Courts Building press room, and it's making it hard for reporters to get off the hook when they phone their offices.

When their editors hear "Stay as Sweet as You Are" coming over the wire, they get a bit suspicious.

A probation investigation has been ordered by Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp at Lisbon for William and Alma Milhorn of St. Clair Township, who changed their pleas to guilty Monday morning on charges of perjury after being indicted in connection with a case in Juvenile Court.

Mrs. Milhorn was indicted after she changed her testimony in Juvenile Court and it was substantiated by her husband.

Both were indicted by the January Grand Jury. Bond of $1,000 has been continued for each pending a report by Chief Probation Officer Richard Rose.

Hibbs was cited before Judge Joel H. Sharp under the state law which provides for a one-year suspension if driver accumulates 12 points over a two-year period.

8 Typewriters Ordered For School's Use

Purchase of eight new typewriters for classroom use and two new electric models and a calculator for office use was approved Monday night by the Board of Education, which took under advisement bids for new equipment in the woodworking and machine shops.

Holding its first meeting since it reorganized Jan. 3, the board also discussed plans to relocate the gas meter house at Westgate School and transacted other business.

The board also established a service fund to cover expenses of board members and employees of $500, the same as last year. Ralph W. Betts told the board.

It also approved a resolution authorizing the Potters Bank & Trust Co. to exchange $100,000 worth of government securities with the school for the standard machines is approximately $180 each, he said.

Betts said it is the first time any new machines have been purchased in five or six years, chiefly because of a lack of funds.

Board members suggested the present electric typewriters now in use, one in the superintendent's office and one in the high school principal's office, be transferred to the commercial classes with older models of the electric machines being traded in.

The board delayed action until its next meeting on the possible purchase of a new vertical milling machine and a shaper for the machine shop and a 24-inch planer and two 12-inch wood lathes in the woodworking shop.

Three firms submitted bids on the new equipment.

Betts told the board "it is questionable if all can be purchased" but pointed out "very little" shop machinery has been bought in 18 years. The present planer is nearly 45 years old while two machines in the machine shop are even older, according to the dates on the models, he told the board.

Betts told the board it also should consider replacing five or six rooms of classroom furniture. He estimated the cost at $900 to $1,000 per room.

Funds for the new equipment will come from revenue produced by a 3-mill operating levy approved last May. During the campaign, the board pledged to increase from $5,000 to $20,000 the amount available for educational equipment.

In discussing the relocation of the gas meter house, necessitated by the construction of the new city expressway, Betts said he learned the contractors would like to have the old brick building out of the way by April 1.

Bids for construction of the new building have been sought from area contractors and are due by Feb. 15, he said. The specifications indicate the roof of the present building along with the doors, metal ventilators and metal sleeves can be used in the new building.

The possibility of moving the present building to the new site was considered but abandoned when an advisor recommended against it, pointing out it would be quicker and cheaper to build a new structure.

The ground on which the meter house now sits was sold to the State Highway Department for the expressway.

During the meeting, the board also granted permission to Baker & Hickey, one of two general contractors on the project, to use a 50-foot strip near Westgate School as a storage yard for equipment and supplies.

Some $115 has been collected in the March of Dimes house-to-house canvass in the Hookstown and Greene Township area, Mrs. Frank Moore of Georgetown, chairman, reported.

Council Takes Action

Change In Health District Opposed

Council enacted a resolution Monday night asking the State Legislature to reject a proposal that would eliminate the city health boards in East Liverpool, Wellsville, E. Palestine and Salem and turn over the administration of the four communities' public health functions to a central board.

It adds that Council feels that enactment of the bill would be "detrimental to the health and best interests" of local citizens.

In other business, Council confirmed the reappointment of Dr. J. Keith Rugh as a member of the Board of Health for a term ending Dec. 31, 1965. Mayor Bert H. Goodballe, who reappointed the physician, requested the confirmation to comply with city ordinances.

COUNCIL received and filed a letter from Mrs. Audrey O'Hanlon of Lisbon R. D. 2, whose daughter was killed in an accident at a railroad grade crossing here several years ago. She enclosed a newspaper clipping of controlling speed of trains through municipalities.

Councilman Norman A. Bucher commended the street department on "its good job in keeping streets passable and particularly the excellent work in snow-removal over the weekend." Councilman Donald Hancock, concurring with Bucher, said he hopes the administration will take steps to remove snow in residential areas.

Safety-Service Director Lee Copenhaver thanked Council for providing additional funds to hire equipment for snow removal. The job was hampered by the illness of Street Supt. W. M. Laughlin, he said.

"BUT IF THIS snow doesn't end soon, the director is going to be sick, too," he added.

Rodney Stull of Bank St. appeared personally to command Council for re-enacting the city income tax.

"I wholeheartedly agree with Council," he said. "Some of our people just can't get it through their heads that you can't operate the city without money."

The meeting opened with invocation by Rabbi Henry Lieberman of B'nai Jacob Synagogue. Council excused Councilman Clifford Cooper, who injured a foot when he stepped on a nail.

Ready To Write It Off

Philippines Think SEATO Ineffective Anti-Red Unit

By JIM BECKER

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaya (AP)

The Philippine government thinks SEATO has collapsed and is ready to write it off as an ineffective anti-Communist force in Asia.

Filipino leaders think the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization might not survive its March meeting.

The ground on which the meter house now sits was sold to the State Highway Department for the expressway.

During the meeting, the board also granted permission to Baker & Hickey, one of two general contractors on the project, to use a 50-foot strip near Westgate School as a storage yard for equipment and supplies.

It was learned Serrano bluntly told the U. S., British and French ambassadors in Manila that his government feels SEATO has failed to meet the Laotian crisis because it has not driven back the Communists there.

Serrano's government thinks Britain and France have paralyzed the organization and fear that the United States may be bowing to its NATO allies in Asia.

Philippine officials also fear some sort of "sellout" to the Communists in Asia on the issues of Laos, the Nationalist Chinese offshore islands of Quemoy and Matsu and the possible admission of Red China to the United Nations.

He reportedly will urge the anti-Communist nations of Southeast Asia to replace SEATO with separate defense treaties with the United States, thereby bypassing Britain and France.

Serrano may even fly to Washington before the SEATO meeting to put these views before the leaders of the new Kennedy administration.

Serrano's government thinks may be brewing in exchange for a settlement with the Reds in Europe.

Serrano, it is understood, is planning to go to Bangkok next month for the SEATO foreign ministers meeting prepared "to call a spade a spade."</p

Over 500,000 Will Exhaust Aid

Mid-March Date Planned For Jobless Aid Extension

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's legislative lieutenants are driving to put his plan for extension of unemployment compensation into effect by mid-March.

They were spurred today by administration estimates that in the next five weeks the number of unemployed who have exhausted the benefits provided by present law will climb far above the present 500,000. Kennedy's proposal would revive weekly benefits for such persons, up to a maximum of 13 weeks.

The first part of the job is up to the House Ways and Means Committee, whose Democratic leaders hope to send the unemployment legislation to the House for action within a week after hearings begin Feb. 15.

Only the financing arrangements are expected to arouse much controversy at the hearings. Kennedy proposed that the federal government advance funds for the extra payments to all states which choose to participate. Then the base of the tax on employers' payrolls would be increased from $3,000 to $4,800 maximum per employee. The increase, according to administration figures, would enable the states to repay within five years at the estimated $950 million cost of the program.

Some employers' spokesmen, however, are expected to protest the step-up of a tax which, like the Social Security levy, is not shared by employer and employee.

Kennedy is sending Congress later recommendations for a permanent change in the unemployment insurance program, designed to make emergency legislation unnecessary in times of recession.

The extension legislation was formally introduced in the House Monday by Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the Ways and Means Committee. He also put in the companion Kennedy bill to extend to the children of the unemployed the benefits now available to orphans and abandoned children.

Chief Reports 1,132 Arrests In City For '60

A total of 6,311 complaints were investigated and 1,132 arrests were made by the police department in 1960, Chief Americo Radeschi said in his annual report, a copy of which was turned over to City Council Monday night.

The department also investigated 609 traffic accidents which resulted in 127 personal injuries and three fatalities, the chief said.

The investigations included 126 breaking and enterings, 194 petty thefts and 108 cases of vandalism. In addition, 26 missing person reports were received, all of whom were returned home; 70 casualty reports were filed, and 32 stolen vehicles were recovered, Radeschi said. The department also investigated 133 licenses issued by the city.

Some 281 vehicles were ordered towed away by private wreckers, he said.

The arrests included 481 for traffic violations plus 47 for drunken driving. The other arrests included 325 for intoxication, 122 for misdemeanors, nine for gambling, 75 on warrants, 29 for felonies, one for murder, 19 referred to Juvenile Court on contributing charges, and 23 as suspicious persons. One mentally-ill person was taken to Woodside Hospital in Youngstown, he added.

Some 19,980 traffic tickets were issued, including 19,480 by "Meter Maids" and some 500 by police. A total of 1,541 tickets were voided because of defective meters or emergencies, he continued.

Meter collections totaled $77,780, including $60,795 from meter revenue and $16,985 in payment of violations. In addition, Municipal Court collected $38,507 in criminal fines and costs, chiefly from arrests made by the department, Radeschi noted.

The department had three cruisers in operation full time during the year and a fourth in part-time use. They traveled a total of 132,878 miles, he said.

The department needs an additional 14 patrolmen to do its work efficiently and meet national standards, the chief said. It now has five officers and 21 patrolmen.

In addition, he also recommended the addition of a fifth "Meter Maid" to police the metered area properly and obtain maximum efficiency from the 620 meters in use.

He submitted a detailed budget totaling $152,918 to operate the department during the year, approximately $3,770 more than he asked a year ago. It includes $133,970 for the police department and $18,947 for the meter department.

State Reports Decline For County Sales Tax

Collections from motor vehicle sales for the week ending Jan. 21 totaled $8,510 to run the total since July 1 to $280,135. In a comparable period a year ago, the weekly collection was $11,672 for a total of $295,810, Ferguson reported.

Pastors Hear NAACP Head

A plea for membership in the local branch of the NAACP was made by Caesar Peters, a representative of the group, at a meeting of the East Liverpool Ministers Association Monday morning at the First Methodist Church.

Peters, introduced by the Rev. James Hunton, program chairman and pastor of the First Church of the Nazarene, told the clergymen that NAACP membership is not restricted to Negroes.

Ministers of the local negro churches, including the Rev. R. L. Latimore of the Second Baptist Church and the Rev. J. G. Lassister of the Sheridan African Methodist Episcopal Church are serving as captains of the current membership drive, which the association hopes will help carry in its program on civil rights.

Rabbi Henry Lieberman, spiritual leader of B'nai Jacob Synagogue, in referring to the plea made by Peters, said that he would be responsible for gathering 100 memberships of Jewish faith.

Another highlight of the program was a talk by the Rev. James S. Millsaps, pastor of the Assembly of God Church, who told of the growing foreign mission work of the denomination. Of the 8,000 churches in the United States, there are 800 missionaries now serving in foreign lands, Rev. Millsaps said.

He said that through the denomination's Christ Ambassadors group, the young people raise money to provide modern methods for the missionaries to use in their work.

Rabbi Lieberman reminded the group of the Brotherhood interfaith meeting to be held Friday at 8 p.m. at the Synagogue, which the association endorsed unanimously. Business was conducted by the Rev. James Gardner of the Orchard Grove Community Methodist Church, president of the association.

The Rev. Glenn Brunstetter, pastor of the Pennsylvania Ave. Methodist Church, conducted devotions. The next meeting will be March 6.

Glenmoor volunteer firemen will meet Thursday night at 7 to proceed with plans for a household canvass to raise funds for new equipment.

The canvass was scheduled Saturday night but was postponed a week because of heavy snow.

Devine Banks, president, said firemen will be given proper credentials for soliciting funds at Thursday night's meeting in the fire hall.

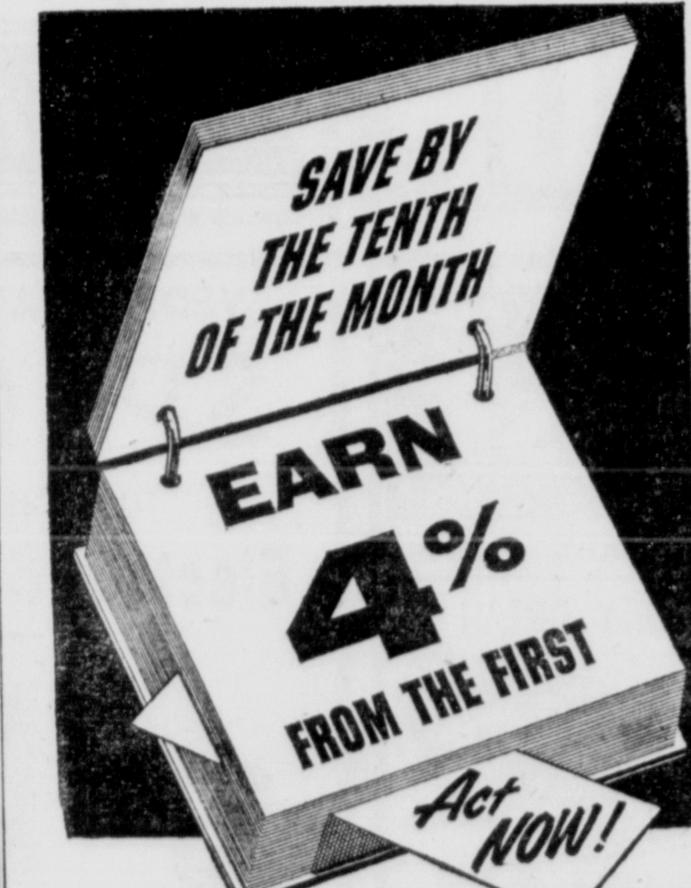

The department is interested in purchasing Scott Air-Paks, in addition to hats, coats and boots. Total cost may be in excess of $1,000.

Cold Weather Characters

Adding To Winter's Woes

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Blow, wind, blow!

Let it rain, let it hail, let it snow!

Let mother nature go on the wildest winter rampage she wants to. We can take it.

Sure, we can take it. But we could take it a lot better if some of the characters cold weather brings out would just hibernate until spring—and let us endure winter's woes without them.

We nominate for hibernation: The man who greets you every morning from the first of November until the 31st of March with the remark, "Cold enough for you?"

His elfin counterpart, whose invariable daily greeting during the same period is, "Warm enough for you?"

The poetic secretary. She gazes out the window at miles of pallid city slush and asks soulfully, "Isn't it a veritable winter wonderland?"

The fellow who sees good in everything. His initial reaction to a 17-inch snowfall that cripples 12 Eastern states: "Well, anyway, it's a million-dollar blessing to the farmers."

The tiresome veteran of even more-awful weather. "You call this a storm?" he demands. "Why I remember a storm when I was a boy and it rained so hard the wind blew holes right through the tree trunks. The next morning every tree in our yard looked like it had been drilled by 10,000 woodpeckers."

There is also the wife who insists that you trudge a mile through the worst storm of the year with her so you can pick up Little Runny-nosed neighbor children who say, "Our daddy says he is going to stay out and help us make three more snowmen and a fort. What are you going back inside for? Are you a sissy?"

Stalled motorists who plead to a passing pedestrian, "Give us a little push, will you?" and when you step behind their cars, they spin their rear tires and cover you with muddy slush from toe to eyebrows.

The cowardly apartment house dog. He paws frantically at the door to let you know he needs an airing. You spend half an hour wrapping up in heavy clothes. Then once outside, the dog sticks one foot in the snow, shivers, and races yelping back to the New York Restaurant in East Liverpool Nov. 5.

Mrs. Hutchinson was indicted by the January Grand Jury and pleaded not guilty at arraignment Jan. 23. Unable to post $2,000 bond, she remains confined to the County Jail.

Probation was requested after she changed her plea Monday.

Probation Requested By Woman Forger

A probation investigation has been ordered by Judge Joe H. Sharp for Mrs. Ann Hutchinson, 36, of New Springfield, charged with forgery in cashing a $25 check at the New York Restaurant in East Liverpool Nov. 5.

Mrs. Hutchinson was indicted by the January Grand Jury and pleaded not guilty at arraignment Jan. 23. Unable to post $2,000 bond, she remains confined to the County Jail.

Probation was requested after she changed her plea Monday.

New Jobless Claims Drop Below 5,000

CLEVELAND (AP) — For the first time in 10 weeks, new claims for unemployment compensation benefits dropped below 5,000 last week, the Cleveland office of the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation reported.

However, E. C. Schulze, BUC acting area chief, said continuing claims hit 45,746, highest total in the current recession. There were 4,800 new claims.

Youth Group Airs Activities

February and March activities were discussed at meeting of the Midland Christian Youth Fellowship Sunday evening in the Midland Methodist Church. Richard Palmer, president, presided.

Feb. 24 was set tentatively for a dance at the Midland Hi-Spot Youth Center.

The Freedom MYF will be guest of the Midland group at the meeting Feb. 26. The play, "Orville's Big Date," which was staged by the young people during the observance of Youth Week, will highlight the program for the meeting Feb. 26. Another feature will be a reading "Have You Heard About It," by Clarence Herter.

The group will be host at the weekly Lenten dinner March 22 for the congregation of the Methodist Church.

Plans were also discussed for members of the Ambridge MYF to attend a March meeting.

Allan Haggerty, adult leader, said plans are being made to hold a valentine party. The date and place will be announced.

Haggerty attended a youth rally of the United Beaver County Youth Movement Sunday at New Grace Methodist Church at New Brighton.

Mrs. Jack Haggerty and Mrs. John McNeillie are councilors of the group, which is comprised of young people from the Midland Presbyterian and Methodist Churches and the Italian Christian Church.

The next meeting will be Sunday at the Methodist Church.

Asian, African Bloc Presses For Lumumba Release

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Asians and African nations, hopeful of support from the United States, pressed their campaign in the U.N. Security Council today for release from prison of deposed Congo Premier Patrice Lumumba.

Ceylon, the United Arab Republic and Liberia were preparing a resolution demanding release of Lumumba, disarming of the Congo army led by Maj. Gen. Joseph Mobutu and reconvening of the Congo Parliament.

With U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson telling newsmen he would not speak in the council's Congo debate before Wednesday Lumumba's supporters were expected to dominate the discussion today.

There was no definite word from Stevenson whether the Kennedy administration's Congo policy would specifically support liberation of the deposed Congo leader now in prison in Katanga Province.

Stevenson has been engaged in a round of private conferences with council members and other delegates. Monday he talked with Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold and the chief Soviet U.N. representative, Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin.

Metropolitan announces a service for all TRI-STATE AREA FATHERS!

Family
Security
Check-Up

Whatever your income, you can benefit from this service which weighs your assets, your responsibilities (even your hopes) and lets you see where you and your loved ones stand.

Every year many fathers have health check-ups.

Yet most fathers don't check up on their family's financial health.

For example, what about those insurance policies you haven't looked at for some time? Do you know how much your family will get under Social Security? How long could your family live as you want them to live?

Your Metropolitan man can help you answer these important questions through a Family Security Check-Up. This service will show you just how well your family's financial future is provided for.

WHAT IS A FAMILY SECURITY CHECK-UP?

With the help of your Metropolitan Man—

1. You check the facts: your Social Security, your home, your life insurance, your pension plan, your savings and other assets. You may be surprised to learn how much you're worth.
2. You weigh your responsibilities: mortgage or rent payments, education, retirement, accident and sickness emergencies; how much it would cost your family to live without you.
3. You learn where you stand. You determine your weak and strong points . . . whether the provisions you have made for your family will do what you intend. You get the facts in front of you.
4. You plan for the future. Based on these facts, you decide what action, if any, may be needed to give you a family security plan, tailor-made to your own needs and ambitions—one which makes good sense for you.

No Obligation. This service will take only about one hour of your time. It is confidential. And you have no obligation—except to those you love. Call today for a Family Security Check-Up.

The Sports Bench

By BOB DUFFY
Sports Editor

Good Luck, Lou . . .

If the ability of a football coach is measured in hard work, interest and a sincere devotion to duty, then East Liverpool High School has just lost one of the most qualified football men in the business.

We once defined the term coach in reference to Venditti. He is one who did the best job possible with the material on hand. We cannot offer a better recommendation.

Outside of the 1956 season, Venditti didn't have exceptional talent to speak of the last four years, but molded the Potters into a team that produced an interesting brand of football. In his five seasons here East Liverpool has pulled some of its most memorable upsets.

DURING HIS TERM here, East Liverpool maintained a schedule which included the best teams in the state. The five seasons under Venditti saw three winning campaigns. And several times during his tenure, we wondered how East Liverpool would field a team after

A Job Well Done . . .

MANY FANS know Lou only as the coach they see on Friday nights in front of the Potter bench, but his realm as football coach stretched much further.

From the last game of the season, Venditti spends hours of his own time getting boys into college. We don't know of another coach who has worked so hard to see that his players get to college if they have the desire.

The list of athletes who have gone on to college under Venditti is long. To mention a few, there are Bernie Allen, Purdue; Bob Mackall, Northwestern; Jim Potts, Bowling Green; Dave Zeich, University of Miami (Fla.); Bruce Reynolds, Indiana University, and Nick Musurano, Denison.

Quarterbacks seemed to be Ven-ditti's specialty. Under him Potts, Allen, Mackall and just this past season Kenny Cunningham were developed.

Lou is a person of genuine qualities and with any cooperation at all from his new bosses at Canton Lincoln we should be hearing a lot of good things from the Canton school in football.

Lou is personal friend and we wish him all the success in the world. He will be hard to replace at ELHS.

It always has been a childhood dream of Venditti's to coach in Canton. That dream has come true. Good Luck, Lou!

WE HOPE a few organizations around East Liverpool give Lou the proper sendoff in the way of a banquet.

PERSUASIVE FANS . . .

East Liverpool Fans Net Potters Victory Over Salem.

That is the way Saturday's headline should have read if we interpret Salem Coach John Cabas' remarks on the game correctly.

Cabas insists that East Liverpool fans influenced the calls of officials Paul Tobin of Akron and

Charles Buttermore of Cuyahoga

Falls.

The key disputed call came with about 14 seconds left when Ken Cunningham got the ball near the corner and went up for a shot. It appeared from the press table that Cunningham had gone up and then down and would be called for traveling.

Despite Friday's complaints, we hope the relationship between East Liverpool and Salem is continued. It has been long, enjoyable and colorful.

THE POTTERS seem to hold some type of jinx over Salem. It was East Liverpool which handed the Quakers their only football loss of the 1960 season.

SALEM'S Don Davidson is one of the finest high school cagers we have seen this season. He will rate one of our votes for all-state honors.

EAST LIVERPOOL'S Kenny Miller is probably the "tallest" footie who has performed for the Blue and White in some time. Miller turned in an outstanding job of rebounding off both boards against the taller Quakers Friday night.

Dawson Is BG Sparkplug . . .

THE KEY man in Bowling Green's latest victories has been East Liverpool's Bob Dawson.

Saturday night against Miami Dawson hit his college career high of 23 points to pace Bowling Green to an 84-70 victory.

Beside that in a game played last week when Bowling Green edged Loyola of Chicago, 66-65, Dawson plunked in a pair of foul shots in the final seconds to give his team the win.

A press release from Don Cunningham, sports information director, at BG, said "Dawson continues to spark the team with his good defensive play and numerous interceptions. The East Liverpool junior also excels at setting up big Nate Thurmond for easy under-the-basket shots."

This 'N That In Sports . . .

PICKING the Potters to upset Salem and 11 out of 15 others sent our stock soaring again, this past weekend.

Tonight, we are faced with a tough one, Stanton Local at Springfield. Stanton is at a disadvantage playing at Springfield but we've stuck with the Irons all season and there is no use changing horses now. Stanton Local 61, Springfield 57 in a tight one.

Wellsville 67, Steubenville Central 50; Newell 65, Salineville 58; Midland 55, New Brighton 43; New Cumberland 62, Sherrard 48; United 74, Jackson-Milton 39 and Peters Twp. 55, South Side 49.

Pitcher Jerry Casale won two games for the Boston last season. Both were against the Yankees. This year he is with the new Los Angeles Angels.

Two Eastern teams, St. Bonaventure and St. John's (New York) already have accepted places in the National Collegiate Basketball championship tournament. And they might as well reserve a spot for Ohio State, even though the Big Ten season is only half over.

Venditti applied twice for the job here. He was let down when he didn't get the post the first time in 1953 and we thought he would leave then.

After serving as freshman coach for four years under Watts, Lou went after the job here when Watts went to Canton McKinley.

Bob Gibson was named head coach in 1953 and the next year Venditti became backfield coach. Gibson resigned in 1956 and Venditti on the second time around was named head coach. His first season at East Liverpool, Venditti's team had an 8-2 record, missing an undefeated season by a total of four points.

"Our players got sick and tired of reading in the papers that they were better than we were last year," Ohio State Coach Fred Taylor afterward explained. Indiana had beaten the Bucks late last season—their last defeat before the start of a winning streak that now has reached 22 games.

With seven conference victories, the Buckeyes appear to have a latch on their second straight Big Ten title. Only one other conference team, Iowa, has lost fewer than two games.

Jerry Lucas, Ohio State's All-

American, paced the Buckeyes with 34 points while Larry Siegfried performance by Jerry Graves while Tennessee knocked once-threatening Florida down into a second-place tie with Vanderbilt. Tennessee handed Florida its second straight loss 83-68; Vandy beat Alabama 73-70. In another SEC surprise, Louisiana State came up with its first victory on the Ole Miss court since 1954-75-69.

As a result of Indiana's defeat, Purdue moved into a third place in the Big Ten standings with a 96-79 triumph over last-place Michigan, gained largely by sinking 40 of 48 free throws. Illinois also passed the Hoosiers by defeating Wisconsin 77-73. In a non-conference game, Michigan State beat Notre Dame 89-74, ending a 24-game winning streak for the Irish on their home floor.

After the first few minutes, Kansas had a fairly easy time against Colorado, weakened by an injury to Wilky Gilmore. Bill Bridges was a stickup for the Jayhawks, scoring 21 points and taking 19 rebounds.

Library's Collection Of Films Offers Escape From Weather

Escape from the rigors of winter can be found in the Carnegie Public Library's film collection. The library has seven travel movies which can take the viewer from Hawaii to the African jungle. The new color print on "Hawaii" runs 16 minutes and is suitable for adult and juvenile audiences.

"Russian Life Today" is a 21-minute film which can be used with groups from the junior high level or older. "Remnants of a Race" is a 1960 production which stars the African bushman. It could be used as a springboard for discussion of the Congo problem.

Teachers and scout leaders who are in need of material for younger children will find two 11-minute subjects appropriate: "Arab Village" and "Visit With Cowboys."

Nature and folklore films also will have attraction for small fry: "Gallant Little Tailor," "Birds in Winter," "Beach and Sea Animals," and "Mother Deer and Her Twins." The last film is about twin fawns. Fleet and Shy, from the time they are two days old until they are over a year. It is another 1960 film with exceptional photography.

Science teachers have four fine movies at their disposal this month: "The Pendulum," for use with junior high instruction; "Dangerous River," in which Smithsonian Archeologists study the Horn River in Montana and Wyoming; "Strangers from Afar," about unusual exotic animals, and the very fine Canadian film, "World in a Marsh."

History films can be just as compelling as many of the documentary studies now presented on TV. During February, there is on tap at the library a history of Communism in Russia, "Nightmare in Red," a 28-minute panorama on "World War I" and a survey of

11 District Youths Placed In Line For Service Academy

A city youth is one of 11 from Eastern Ohio who have been named as candidates for appointment to the Air Force Academy, Rep. Wayne L. Hays, 18th Ohio District congressman, announced.

The 11 ranked at the top on preliminary examination given in November. They now will compete among themselves for the appointment to the Colorado academy.

The final examination will be given by academy officials, who will make the selection.

The East Liverpool nominee is Jeffrey D. Silliman, son of Mr.

and Mrs. Clyde W. Silliman Jr. of Vodrey Ln., who is enrolled in the academy's prep school at Bainbridge, Md. He is a 1960 graduate of Beaver Local High School.

Also nominated is Paul James Bryer Jr., son of Col. Paul J. Bryer, former Salineville resident.

The list also includes Jay Gregory Albright and Donald Curtis Conser, both of Salem; Charles Edward Coss and Judge Henry Terrell, both of Bridgeport; Robert C. Glenn of Richmond; Ben Anthony Hitt of St. Clairsburg, Charles Gerald Leach of Barnesville, John E. Valero of Steubenville, and Richard Thomas Witton of Martins Ferry.

Court Clerk Pays $5,508 To County

LISBON — Court Clerk Carl L. Stacey said today $5,508 was turned over to County Treasurer Vincent C. Judge for fees collected in Common Pleas Court and the vehicle title department during January.

The clerk also paid $3,678 to the state treasury from the collection of sales and use taxes, and $25,103 from the collection of the new dealers' tax. The county received $290 as its 1 per cent poundage, Stacey said.

The state treasury also received $830 for car title fees, he added.

There were 77 civil cases filed in Common Pleas Court and the title department issued 2,151 auto titles, 43 duplicate titles, 461 memorandums, 8 duplicate memorandums, 875 notations of lien, 1,032 cancellations of liens and 619 acknowledgements, Stacey reported.

The 204 titles issued for new vehicles last month represents sales of $672,343, Stacey said.

Out Of The Air

By MARIE TORRE

Richard Boone Decides To Stay

When all is said and done, it's the tax structure rather than artistic achievement, however fervently stated, that makes performing idols remain in TV.

This probably accounts for the plethora of performance mediocrities, for artistry often is prone to decay when the actor is shackled to a fiscal objective. The thought occurs to us as we learn that one Richard Boone, the rugged hero of "Have Gun, Will Travel," has decided to reverse his decision to defect from the five-year-old Western series, a resolution he had made in the interests of satisfying a professional desire to flex his acting muscles in greener pastures.

What changed his mind? The promise by CBS that for his participation in next season's 39 episodes he would be paid $1.1 million to be spread over three years.

THIS APPARENTLY has quelled the restless hero, whose professional uneasiness was apparent as far back as '59.

At the time, Boone publicly stated he would not renew his "Have Gun" contract upon expiration because: "I've done it, that's all! Five years with one show is enough; I'd like to try other things—anything but another television series."

Boone has been tired of the Paladin role for two years, in effect, but to heck with professional unhappiness when money beckons, particularly when there's a tax-saving device attached to it.

Does it matter not to the performing artists that hack acting is usually the result when professional achievement is subordinated to the money lure? Apparently not!

FRANK SINATRA'S pre-inaugural fund-raising show was unable to be sold to any of the networks prior to show time, but the program was filmed and it's now being peddled as a 90-minute special. If sold, the proceeds will go to the Democratic National Committee...

In his TV special last Tuesday night, Jack Paar did what was deemed the impossible. He out-rated "The Garry Moore Show" by 4 points, the first time Moore has fallen from top rating position in his time period this season...

One wishes that TV sponsors would do their part in furthering the cause of public affairs programming. CBS, for instance, stands to lose $1.5 million by June on the alternating "CBS Reports" and "Face the Nation" unless sponsors come to the rescue.

New Manager Named For City Sears Store

Harry Sadler of Shamokin, Pa., has been named manager of the Sears Roebuck & Co. catalog sales store here, succeeding David L. Powers, who has been transferred to New Jersey outlet.

The appointments are effective Friday. Sadler, who has been with the big retail chain five years, has been manager of the catalog store in Shamokin. He and his wife and four children will reside on Brightview Dr.

Powers, who came here from Midland, Tex., to become manager when the local store was opened Feb. 19, 1959, has been named manager of the catalog store in Burlington, N. J., the largest Sears' catalog store in the East. His wife and four daughters will continue to reside in Midland, Pa., until new housing is obtained.

Indicted For Murder

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A grand jury has returned a first-degree murder indictment against Donald R. Poland, 23, in the stabbing of his next-door Columbus neighbor, William Riley Pack, 19, last Nov. 2. Police said Poland on a trial visit home from a Georgia state hospital at the time, admitted stabbing Pack with a sharpened screwdriver because the victim "had been spreading lies" about him. Lima State Hospital officials have declared Poland until charges first were brought there were 19 counts of morals violation against Stiles, but the boys involved in 17 counts refused to testify. Conviction came on two counts which were backed by the testimony of William E. Kutscher, 24, who had assisted Stiles at the New Jersey outlet.
